16 – Involvement of Stakeholders

The institution ensures active involvement of key stakeholders such as the Parent–Teacher Association (PTA) and the Old Students’ Association (OSA) in promoting academic excellence, student welfare, and institutional development. Both bodies function in accordance with institutional norms and contribute significantly through constructive feedback, financial and non-financial support, and participation in planning and decision-making processes. Their engagement strengthens transparency, enhances accountability, and fosters a collaborative environment essential for the holistic growth of the institution.

16 (vi) PTA

The Parent–Teacher Association (PTA) of the college is constituted as per the prescribed norms and functions as an active stakeholder body contributing to institutional development. The PTA regularly collaborates with the administration to strengthen academic processes, support student welfare initiatives, and ensure smooth implementation of institutional policies. Its constructive involvement enhances transparency, improves communication between parents and faculty, and provides vital support in improving the overall learning environment.

16 (vii) OSA

The Old Students' Association (OSA) of the college is established as per institutional guidelines and plays a significant role in connecting alumni with ongoing developmental activities. The OSA contributes both financially and non-financially through academic talks, career counselling sessions, mentoring, facilitation in placements, and collaborative events that enrich student exposure. Its active participation strengthens alumni engagement and supports the college in building a vibrant academic and professional ecosystem.

Financial Contributions:

Documentary proof includes the OSA financial year closing balance, reflecting the monetary support extended during the session.

Non-Financial Contributions:

Supporting documents and photographs of career counselling sessions, guest lectures, alumni interactions, and mentoring activities have been enclosed, demonstrating active non-financial contributions by OSA members.
